

Dear Parents/Carers,

During the first week back, after the break, we will be celebrating World Book Day with a week of all things reading: from 'meet the author' events to workshops from the children's author, Simon Murray to bedtime stories with hot chocolate – and of course – book character dress up.

Monday 28th February – Bedtime Story Day with hot chocolate and a biscuit! Come to school dressed in your favorite cosy PJs ready for an afternoon of stories read by your teachers – 50p donation

Tuesday 1st March – Author Simon Murray is visiting our school! The author of Icky Doo Dah will be delivering inspiring workshops to all children in Foundation and KS1.

Thursday 3rd March – Dress up as your favorite book character (no donation required) and we have live author events where the children in KS1 and KS2 will get to ask questions direct to famous authors Catherine Rayner and Michael Rosen.

Friday 4th March – Create your own book character using a potato! There are some creative (and very funny) ideas on Pinterest. These are to be brought into school and will be showcased during our celebration assembly – prizes for most creative!

Throughout the week, each class will be reciting and performing a poem, we will be launching our new Reading Wizards (these are our most experienced readers, who have volunteered to read with our younger children during the school day) and we will be entering children into a raffle for every day they read during the week - if your child reads every day they will have the 5 chances to win! We will be sharing all of this via class Dojo and Twitter. So please do keep an eye out!

Thank you for your continued support with all things reading.

Miss Sheridan
